

Quick Release Sea Link Tow Line

The Quick Release Sea Link kayak tow line from North Water is a compact system that gives you the option of turning a short or long tow line with the release of a buckle. It attaches to any quick-release rescue PFD harness and has built-in floatation and shock absorption. It gives you the versatility you need for a quick rescue. When you need the Sea Link, unclip the carabiner from the front of your PFD and clip it to the grab-loop or the security loop of the boat that you plan to tow. If you require a longer line unclip the side release buckle on the pouch. The line will thread out of the pouch as you paddle forward giving you a towing length of 15 feet. Add the North Water Quick Release Sea Link tow line to your rescue PFD today.
